Business Inquiry Report Is Signed By Commissioners

Recommendations For Wide-spread System of Regulation Throughout Canada Now in Hands of Government

Liberals Signed With Reservations

Ottawa, April 9.—The report of the Royal Commission on Mass Buying was signed at 11 o'clock this forenoon. A weighty document of 850 pages, it was presented to Minister of Trade and Commerce R. B. Hanson this forenoon. When it will be released for publication Chairman W. W. Kennedy did not know. The minister has said he proposes taking it up with the Cabinet before tabling it in the House of Commons.

All the commissioners were present when five printed copies were handed around for their signatures. Seven of them signed without any reservations, three signed with reservations and one signed a minority report. The commissioners were divided as follows:

Signing complete report: Chairman Kennedy, A. M. Edwards (Conservative), W. A. Ridd (Liberal), J. L. Macdonald (Conservative), J. L. Macdonald (Conservative), J. L. Macdonald (Conservative), J. L. Macdonald (Conservative), J. L. Macdonald (Conservative).

Wide control. The Commission has learned that more strict control over all business and all industry in Canada, more intense governmental interest in company financing, in the relation between employer and worker and in labor itself are among recommendations.

GOVERNOR TO-DAY HONORED BY U.B.C.
Vancouver, April 9.—Lady Beaufort began a busy day to-day by receiving Mrs. Bertha J. Mason, president of the U.B.C. Club.

Lady Beaufort and Lady Moyra Pennington played a round of golf at the Victoria Golf Club during the morning.

FUND CLOSES ON SATURDAY

There are only four days left in which to make contributions to the Silver Jubilee Commemorative Fund, the closing of the twenty-five years of the reign of His Majesty the King. The fund closes definitely on Saturday. The money received in British Columbia up to that date will be converted into gold nuggets, which will be placed in the Thunder Bird Cup to be sent by the province to His Majesty.

BERLIN PLAYS AT WAR DURING AN AIR RAID

When squadrons of German army planes recently treated Berlin to its first "raid" scenes such as the above were witnessed. First aid corps of Red Cross volunteers rushed about the streets, placing "wounded" civilians in their stretchers and carrying them off to emergency "ambulances" improvised from trucks. Firemen in gas masks, like the ghostly men from Mars, dashed about in response to alarms which followed the "raid" by the bombs of the attacking air force. Above are shown two of the worst figures playing a line of home on one of the "fires" presumed to have followed the attack.

C.N.R. Not Honest Public Ownership Says Head of C.P.R.

System Nothing Less Than "Sad Accident," States E. W. Beatty, Arguing For C.P.R.-C.N.R. Unification

Toronto, April 9.—Contending the structure of the Canadian National Railways, viewed in the light of social and economic progress, was neither practicable nor the result of mature and informed thought, and could not meet the present tests which hard and unpleasant facts have proved must be applied to all social and economic ventures, E. W. Beatty, E.C. chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said in an address at a meeting attended by more than 1,000 members of the board of trade, service clubs and representative citizens from all parts of Toronto's industrial and commercial life to-day that "by every test I can apply the Canadian National Railways cannot be regarded as an honest experiment in public ownership," and were "nothing more nor less than a sad accident."

Declaring his opinion that it would be "a poor citizen who would let his voice be stifled by the fear of ridicule or of reprisals," Mr. Beatty presented an analysis of the Canadian railway situation, and a recapitulation and argument in support of his own proposals for the unification of the Canadian Pacific.

Government Is Firm On Power Cancellation and Conservatives Battle

First Filibuster in Ontario Legislature in Ten Years; Ex-Premier Henry Speaks For Five Hours

BILL AT SECOND READING STAGE

Toronto, April 9.—The vocal endurance contest continued in the Ontario Legislature to-day as the Conservative forces, led by ex-Premier George A. Henry, opposed second reading of Premier Mitchell's Hydro contracts cancellation bill in a deluge of talk.

The bill was drafted to end contracts with a number of companies in Quebec for purchase of a power supply over a lengthy period of years by the Ontario Hydro Commission. The Napier government has an overwhelming majority in the House.

TIME OUT FOR BREAKFAST
Weary and hungry, members of the Legislature called a halt for breakfast at 12:30 o'clock this morning after an all-night filibuster by the Conservatives.

At 9 o'clock Leopold Mowbray, former Minister of Highways, resumed the debate. He spoke for two hours and was only interrupted for a two-hour dinner recess. It was the first filibuster in the Ontario House in more than a decade.

Since 4:30 o'clock yesterday, when Mr. Henry began to speak, the bill has been the subject of a continuous stream of speeches. Mr. Henry, who is now in the House, has spoken for five hours.

Mr. Henry's speech yesterday afternoon and evening occupied five hours. The Opposition leader drew forth newspaper clippings, letters and notes in such an impressive array, that Mr. Henry's speech was prompted to remark:

"Now, how about reading us Anthony Adams?"

Political observers said it was the first determined Ontario Legislature filibuster of the last ten years.

Dr. George McQuibban took over for the government at 10:30 last night, arguing that there was no other course for the government to follow than to cancel the contracts for power with the four Quebec firms.

As midnight approached, Arthur Ellis, Conservative, Ottawa South, entered the talk-marathon in the interests of the Opposition.

Premier Henry, during the night, assured the House his government would budget not one iota from its previously stated stand on the contracts.

DOZEN IN SEATS
Meanwhile, governmental members took turns in doing in their chairs or in the padded lounge rows. Three deputy speakers occupied the chair at different times after Speaker H. O. Hupel had left the chamber.

Throughout the debate the staid old chamber heard opposition forces hurl charges of "repudiation" at the government.

Never before in the province's legislative history has such a bill been kept under consideration.

LIQUOR CHARGES ARE ABANDONED

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 9.—The crown to-day dropped all charges against Mrs. Evelyn Curran of Montreal in connection with an alleged conspiracy to defraud the Dominion Government of $5,000,000 through smuggling of liquor, because of lack of evidence.

Plans for the championship, will be held in the main building at the Willows exhibition grounds.

STRAIGHTENED OUT
Thomas Watt, Oak Bay building inspector, who declined to grant a permit for structural alterations to the Willows building, has now straightened out, following a meeting at the Oak Bay municipal hall.

"If Mr. Watt's decision is complied with the specifications laid down by the city," Mr. Watt said, "a permit will be granted."

Mr. Watt said that the plans would comply with a former decision of the city council.

HOLIDAY ON MAY 6 HERE

City Council Decides to Hold Accession Day Anniversary Celebration

May 6, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of the throne of King George V, will be a public holiday in Victoria.

Yesterday evening the council, in response to a request forwarded through the deputy provincial secretary, decided to declare the day a holiday, and to allocate the sum of $100 for the purpose.

At the request of Alderman James Adams the city determined to enforce strict closing by restaurants as well as other places of amusement.

The council also approved a grant of $500 to the Central Exchange with the payment of $100 on account provided the other municipalities made contributions.

A bond deal involving $2,500 in securities and approved by the city as was a monthly car allowance of $50 for the new relief workmaster.

The original five, Alderman Archie Wills, sponsor of the by-law; Alderman James Adams, second; Alderman Walter Loney and Alderman John A. Worthington voted for the measure.

Alderman J. D. Hunter who was absent from the meeting, voted against the move when it was first introduced.

The action was taken after a petition, signed by 1,500 signatures, supporting daylight saving, had been laid before the council. Several other letters, the majority favoring daylight saving, had been sent to the council since the by-law was first introduced.

The proposals of advancing the clock one hour will now have to wait until the December elections before they can secure a plebiscite on the issue.

The other alternative, that of having 30 per cent of the voters petition for a plebiscite, was considered an unlikely course.

Alderman James Adams asked what months the by-law would cover if it were passed as the discussion opened. It was only for July and August he believed it should be unanimously endorsed, he said.

SPOT ADVERTISING ON RADIO IS TO STOP

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—Spot radio advertising on Sundays will be eliminated over all Canadian stations beginning May 1, the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission announced to-day.

The ban will not apply to those stations which have a regular program of spot advertising.

The question of eliminating advertising on Sunday broadcasts will be given further consideration.

Radio Canada, chairman of the commission, said to all station managers a memorandum informing them of the decision.

The question of the legality under the terms of the Lord's Day Act of all forms of Sunday advertising has been raised by various influential organizations in Quebec, Ontario and other provinces and the commission hoped to remove the main cause of complaint.

"It is collecting information with a view to restricting publicity in Sunday broadcasts to 'goodwill' advertising from which the element of 'solicitation' for the sale of commodities, against which the Lord's Day Act appears to be applied, has been eliminated."

Alderman Willis also spoke briefly for the by-laws, Alderman Alce Peden, absent at the meeting at which the move was first considered, gave his views on the matter.

SUGGESTS OTHER THINGS
Among other things, Alderman Peden suggested a general plebiscite to determine the voters' opinions on the building of an auditorium and the levying of an extra half mill for that purpose, the public's stand on the five year tourist trade plan, daylight saving and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau grant. The mayor voiced his opinions against the measure, stating he believed the council had no right to determine the question in favor of advancing the clock in view of the overwhelming majority against it the last time the question was put to a vote. Alderman McQuinn rose to question the mayor's statement. The council and the mayor had not respected the opinion of the voters on the question of an elective police commission, he stated.

Catching the mayor up on the question of a plebiscite and its value, Alderman Worthington remarked some time ago the people of Victoria had voted for single tax. "And what happened to it?" he asked. He did not say. "Single tax," he said, "has been very bad for the city. It has cost the city a great deal of money, and the plebiscite had been ignored."

Talk Contest In Ontario Legislature

AREA FOR STATEMENT
Leopold Macaulay, Conservative member for South York, who resumed the debate after the breakfast recess this morning, said either the government or Arthur Meighen, "first lieutenant" of Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, should reveal what happened during the Macleod-Quebec contract and the government brought in the cancellation bill.

From what he could read in the bill Mr. Macaulay said, he understood the Hydro Commission was "playing a game of poker with the Quebec power authorities and later will go out and revise, change or modify any contracts it wishes to make."

MENTIONS MCGEE
Mr. Macaulay brought Mayor G. O. McGee, M.P. of Vancouver into the debate, saying his financial proposals had done Vancouver much harm. "Gerry McGee is a very sincere man but a fanatic," he said.

The remark was made during his argument against breaking down of credit through "irresponsible statements."

The opposition was not asking the government to "crucify the public on the government's line of policy to be followed after the vote on the bill."

PRICE SPREADS
Mr. Macaulay spoke for three hours and thirteen minutes. The former minister ended his speech at 1:13 p.m. and was followed by W. R. Price, Conservative member for the Victoria riding, who spoke for one hour and twenty minutes in the Conservative four-day filibuster against the Drury Government redistribution bill.

At 1:30 the House had been in session for 22 1/2 hours.

and Canadian National for operating purposes. Broadly basing his argument on his approval of the social justice now in the making, he urged the necessity of a sound financial foundation, and said: "We can go a long way further than we ever have in the direction of providing greater social justice, but we must first have a sound financial foundation."

SUGGESTS TESTS
There were certain tests, he said, which should be applied to suggested changes in the country's social and economic life. Was the suggestion made on mature and informed thought? Was it certain to be completed? Was it intended? Was it to be guided by experience? Would the plan be economically practical? These tests, he said, were the ones which should be applied to the suggested change. That, he said, was his economic philosophy.

FIRE QUELLED AT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, April 9.—A supply of cordwood, a Ford truck and a speedboat stored in a large shed on Fourth Avenue were destroyed by fire early today. Firemen fought the blaze for three hours and had it extinguished by 6:30 o'clock.

J. McBride, who operates a cordwood business, had been using the shed this winter as storage quarters and had considerable wood in the premises.

No damage was done by sparks but a small house adjoining the shed suffered from the drenching water directed on it by firemen.

Governor Hears Protest

Vancouver, April 9.—A representative of more than 1,000 relief camp strikers in Vancouver to-day visited Lord Bessborough's private car to present to the Governor-General the protest against camp conditions in British Columbia.

This action followed receipt of a telegram from Premier T. D. Bennett, declining to make any provision for food and shelter for the men who have left the camps.

Request for such provisions was made yesterday by the men followed by a mass meeting. "Competition of police terror and a guarantee of safe arrival of all strikers in Vancouver" were also urged on the Premier. About 400 men strikers are reported on route here from the interior.

"Control of relief camps is under Dominion jurisdiction," the Premier replied to the men.

tions made in the main report of the commission.

The report deals with virtually every phase of Canadian business and industry by means of a series of independent-appointed boards to control and review operations along a wide front.

Following are thirteen major points contained in the report:

1. Reduction in the standard hours of labor, not to exceed forty hours a week as a maximum, but flexibility in the administration of such laws, permitting long hours when necessary, with time and a half and double time, overtime.

2. More complete organization of employer associations and workers' trade unions.

3. Requirement that a company's annual statement, together with the auditor's report, should be published in the daily press in "such a way as to insure the widest publicity, and in The Canada Gazette."

4. That it should be made illegal for directors, promoters, etc., to issue fully paid-up shares unless the company has been audited by a qualified accountant in cash, property or services.

AT LEAGUE SESSION
It was announced to-day that Prime Minister MacDonald will go on to the special session of the League of Nations Council at Geneva, April 10, for four days after the Geneva talks open, when the council examines France's protest against German rearmament.

The British delegation will leave by steamer for Geneva on April 11. Premier MacDonald and Sir John Simon will see French officials in Paris to-morrow, but they were not expected to have formal conversations until the conference.

The Ethiopian affairs report of the Foreign Office probably will join the delegation at Geneva after the British departure. It is believed the League Council might discuss the Italian-Ethiopian dispute as well as continental security.

ATTITUDES OUTLINED
London, April 9.—Although he declined to make any pronouncement on the "British government's policy pending Thursday's tripartite conference at Rome, Italy, Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon to-day gave the House of Commons an outline of the attitude of Germany, Russia and Poland.

Summarizing the results of the British exploratory mission to Europe, Sir John said the British government was not prepared to sign any mutual assistance pact which would include Russia or Lithuania.

Adolf Hitler was not prepared to sign any mutual assistance pact, particularly any pact with Russia, said the Foreign Secretary. But Hitler favored non-aggression pacts between the powers interested in eastern Europe, with provision for consultation in the event of aggression.

ROYAL COMMISSION HEARS OF PROFITS LOST IN COAL INDUSTRY AT NANAIMO

Nanaimo, April 9.—Considerable time was spent in explaining yesterday the losses in the coal industry of the Royal Commission, investigating coal and oil in British Columbia.

Patrick Fagan, Nanaimo Coalfield secretary, first explained the losses as coal weighed over the mine scale, as it came out of the mine.

Losses in the coal industry were estimated at $1,000,000 in 1933, and $1,500,000 in 1934, including the Schute-Staffel and militarized police, a navy 50 per cent of the tonnage of the British navy, partly in payment of the Russian air force.

NOISE INSPECTION
The number of inspectors in the weights and measures inspection service should be increased.

6. Penalties for breach of the act should be more severe.

7. Provision should be made for the standardization by order-in-council of the quantities in which any packaged commodity, whether a food product or not, may be sold.

Penalties For Children Over
Twelve: Death Sentences
Only For Older Persons

Moscow, April 9.—An official interpretation yesterday evening of a decree subjecting children down to twelve years old to the same punishment provided for adults when convicted of murder said the death penalty had been excluded for youngsters.

Up to the present children under fourteen have not been taken to court for crimes in Russia, but have been sent to reformatories. Yesterday's decree, signed by President Mikhail Kalinin and Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, said:

"To end crimes among children, all minors over twelve who commit theft, violence, mutilation, murder or attempt to murder will be held responsible before the criminal court and will be subjected to all measures of criminal punishment."

Yesterday three convicted robbers were executed in an anti-crime campaign which has caused fifty-four persons to be shot to death in less than three weeks.

A woman, Judge Vera Kireleva, has been taking a prominent part in the anti-crime campaign, the most drastic yet instituted in Communist Russia.

Following a tremendous ovation and a flag salute, in his honor, Chief Scout Baden-Powell told the youngsters:

"If all the scouts of the world are friends and comrades of one another, that is the best assurance the nations in which they live will be friends."

The circus was held in the University of Washington pavilion. The Baden-Powell party left this morning for several days in Victoria, B.C.

Hanged

Associated Press
Los Angeles, April 9.—More than three days late, appeal papers which would have deferred the execution of Bush Griffin, negro, who was hanged last Friday at San Quentin prison for the murder of Laurence Lyon, were delivered by special messenger late yesterday to the clerk of the Supreme Court of California.

A few minutes earlier the appeal papers had been served on the Attorney-General.

"Had this office received notice of appeal even as late as last Thursday, we would have notified the Supreme Court," said Francis B. Keene, assistant attorney-general, who was in charge of the appeal.

"The appeal motion would have been delayed," said H. P. Oulitia, deputy clerk of the Supreme Court.

The appeal motion was filed January 21 before Judge Charles W. Griffin, and while it lay hidden somewhere between the county clerk's office and the state supreme court, Frederick H. Vercoe, public defender, said an investigation of the case would be made by his office in an effort to place responsibility for the "apparent negligence" in the delay to the appeal reaching the supreme court.

There should be an immediate change in the state law governing executions, Vercoe said, "and no judge should be allowed to sign a death warrant until the full time for appeal has passed."

Condemned Man
Is Expecting Aid

Associated Press
Kansas City, April 9.—Walter H. McGee, bushy-headed kidnapper, said in his death cell yesterday evening that Mary McElroy, the tall, attractive girl he abducted in 1933, had promised him she would do what she could to save him from hanging for the crime.

The thirty-nine-year-old McGee asserted that the young woman, whose testimony figured heavily in his conviction, had confided her intentions during one of several visits at the Jackson County (Kansas City) jail.

McGee, first person ever to be given the death penalty for kidnapping in the United States, is under sentence to die May 10.

The twenty-six-year-old daughter of City Manager H. P. McElroy, who paid $500 ransom for his release, would not comment. Her father also was noncommittal.

Miss McElroy has expressed her sympathy frequently.

LEATHER TARIFF
REDUCTIONS ASKED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—Reduction of customs duties on various types of leather entering into the manufacture of boots and shoes was argued during all of yesterday's session of the Tariff Board.

The first request was for a downward revision of the tariff on East India skin, a cheap kind of leather used for the soles of kid boots. The second sought a tariff cut on kid and goat leather.

Both applications were opposed by the Tariff Association of Canada, represented by R. S. Robertson of Toronto. The Shoe Manufacturers' Association was divided in its attitude toward the first, but backed up Roy S. Weaver, its secretary, and Wilfred Gagnon of Quebec, in the second.

Stand For Commons

Canadian Press
Calgary, April 9.—Andrew Davidson, prominent in Calgary labor circles for twenty years, and chief magistrate of Calgary since 1930, may be a Conservative candidate in the federal election.

Mayor Davidson yesterday admitted he had been asked to contest the federal riding of Bow River, now represented by E. J. Gendron, U.F.A., but had made no decision.

"I am giving the matter careful consideration," he said.

FARMER DIES

Coronation, Alta., April 9.—(Canadian Press).—I am sure I shall not live long enough to get a Social Credit dividend of $25," was the jocular remark of Cornelius Van Dyke, fifty-eight-year-old farmer, while he played chicken with friends here. An hour later he was dead. Van Dyke complained of not feeling well. On the way home he collapsed and died within eight hours of his death.

NO TRADE PACT
STATEMENT YET

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—Negotiations between Canada and the United States for a reciprocity agreement have not progressed far enough to make any definite announcement, Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister, yesterday afternoon, told the House of Commons.

At the same time he said no negotiations were being carried on between Canada and Japan.

The Japanese government had not approached the Dominion government for an agreement or guarantee to increase the purchase of Japanese products, but "some informal discussions regarding trade relations between Japan and Canada have taken place," he told A. W. Neil, Independent, Conservative, today in the House of Commons.

It was attended by the cardinals of the curia in a body, the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See, the political corps and representatives of the Italian government and the Fascist Party.

Cardinal Locatelli died last Friday.

Word "Insane" Is Removed From Act

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 9.—The word "insane" will be deleted from the Ontario statutes if a bill to amend the Mental Hospitals Act, which will come up for second reading this week, is ratified by the Legislature.

Hon. J. A. Paulkner, M.D., Minister of Health, regards the word as objectionable, "because it is a medical term and not a legal one."

WORD BARRED IN COMMONS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—The word "guts" is unparliamentary, it was ruled in the House of Commons yesterday evening by Deputy Speaker Raymond Morand. He called Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, to order for saying "if we just had the guts to do something about debts."

The British Columbia, however, surmounted the difficulty by substituting "intestinal fortitude."

Higher Prices
Are Advocated

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 9.—Canada needs "more goods at higher prices," W. E. Hastings, secretary of the British Columbia Chamber of Agriculture and chairman of the B.C. Tree Fruit Board, said in addressing members of a service club yesterday.

Mr. Hastings maintained city people should take more interest in upholding the Natural Products Marketing Act and any other acts which may be passed for the benefit of agriculture as any act beneficial to Canadian agriculture is truly beneficial to the urban population.

"It is a mistake to believe it is good for you to be able to buy butter at 20 cents a pound," he declared, "because, speaking broadly, there is a grave danger you will be unable to buy the bread to spread it on."

Pointing out the growth of the fruit business in the Okanagan, Mr. Hastings said: "I do not believe I exaggerate when I tell you that this $50,000,000 industry was only saved from bankruptcy by the passage of the Natural Products Marketing Act."

"I believe that under the powers of regulation afforded to the industry by that act, this large business can be saved from bankruptcy and placed on a sound commercial basis. To you,

British Emigration
Briefly Discussed

London, April 9.—Emigration of Britons to Canada was briefly discussed in the House of Commons yesterday when Malcolm MacDonald, Under-secretary for Dominions, was asked if the time had not come further to encourage this emigration.

"That is a matter primarily for the Canadian government," he said in answer to Mr. General J. J. Nation.

"We are prepared to do our part as soon as conditions are favorable."

Mr. MacDonald said 33,000 emigrants had entered Canada during the last ten years from the United Kingdom.

The member said that in the same period something like half a million foreigners and probably 200,000 from the United States had entered the Dominion.

"Easy Payments" Cease to Be Easy if They Are Not Paid Promptly

Letting payments lapse and "pile up" defeats the very purpose of the "Out of Income" plan which is to make it easy for the average citizen to acquire the things he needs without waiting to accumulate the entire purchase price.

Today you may buy a home, a radio, an electric refrigerator, even clothing—or any of the higher-priced articles of merchandise—and pay for them in easy payments out of your income. Where, a generation ago, it would have been necessary for you to defer the purchase of such articles until you had accumulated the full purchase price, you may today use them and enjoy their full benefits while paying for them. Present conditions have proved the soundness of this plan. In spite of the predictions of economists of a few years ago, these budget accounts are being paid as promptly as are ordinary open credit accounts.

Only two cautions are necessary. DON'T BUY BEYOND YOUR ABILITY TO PAY, and DON'T FAIL TO MEET YOUR PAYMENTS PROMPTLY ON THE DAY THEY ARE DUE. If you buy beyond your ability to pay, you are jeopardizing your credit standing. So carefully budget your expenses and obligate yourself only for such amounts as you can easily meet out of your regular income.

Many of us are tempted to buy beyond our means, and possibly jeopardize a good standing on an agreement. Buy—and keep on buying. It helps to keep up employment and our continued welfare... but buy what you know can be paid for as agreed.

If you fail to meet your payments promptly you are not only destroying your credit—you are defeating the very purpose of the plan. For if payments "Pile Up," if one payment is neglected until another is due, it's just twice as hard to bring your account up to date again.

A BOOMING CANADIAN INDUSTRY

WHILE MUCH IS BEING SAID AND written about the prospects of a new trade arrangement between Canada and the United States a movement of livestock from this country to the neighboring republic has been going on during the last three months which may be correctly termed phenomenal when the shipments of the last few years are taken into consideration.

For example, during the second week of March the exports of live cattle from the Dominion to our southern neighbor were nearly as large as the total shipments for the whole of 1934. Sales for the week in question amounted to 6,117 head compared with totals of 6,567 and 5,734 in 1934 and 1933 respectively.

This movement, which began late in January, electrified an unprepared market and intensified the competition for finished cattle which had previously been in demand for export to Great Britain. The immediate cause of the opening of this new outlook was the shortage of good animals in the United States resulting from adverse feed conditions, and the rapid rise in cattle prices in Chicago from a depression low of $7.30 per cwt. to a top price in January of $13.65 for choice steers.

With a top price in Toronto for choice steers at $7.00 per cwt. this margin, of course, allowed the profitable shipment of Canadian cattle to the United States in spite of the barriers imposed by the Hawley-Smoot tariff—an increase in duties which very seriously curtailed Canada's market for livestock on the south of the line.

Students of the trend in these increases in the price of livestock in the United States see no reason why they should not continue. They base their argument on the fact that it will require an appreciable interval before the shortage in the neighboring republic can be overcome.

Since shipments from Canada can constitute but an insignificant fraction of the total slaughter requirements in the United States, it is unlikely that there will be strong objections to these imports on the part of the American livestock industry. It may be suggested, too, that the government at Washington would not seriously consider any objection under the circumstances—and in view of the fact that the United States is desirous of negotiating a new trade treaty with us.

During the past few years, as is well known, Great Britain has been the principal export market for Canadian cattle. In 1933 and 1934 shipments to that market amounted to 50,000 and 54,000 head respectively. Stringent regulations concerning cattle imports to Great Britain, together with the recent rise in prices in Canada, have retarded sales, and exports to that market so far this year have been substantially reduced.

Over a number of years complaints have come from Britain's cattle importers because, according to their claim, Canada can not be depended upon as a source of steady supply. They have contended that the expense of establishing transportation facilities and building up the market is not justified.

As against the foregoing point of view, however, it can hardly be contended that the Canadian livestock industry is to be blamed for taking advantage of a price difference as great as that provided by the recent rise in prices in the United States.

Canada's livestock men, moreover, have not forgotten that ancient and unjustified discriminatory legislation against Canadian livestock which Great Britain imposed for more than thirty years. Indeed, it was not until a British Royal Commission, before which former Premier Talmie appeared as Dominion Minister of Agriculture, that Canadian cattle were given a clean bill of health, while it was generally recognized that they always had been healthy and that the original embargo was a gross injustice.

Canada's livestock men also are aware that a new deal has been arranged between Great Britain and the Irish Free State under which British cattle may move Free State cattle and the Free State will buy more British coal.

Meanwhile, Canadian exporters of choice steers will cultivate the market which is next door, the Hawley-Smoot tariff notwithstanding.

A GREAT PUBLISHER

WITHIN THE LAST FEW WEEKS THE New York Times, one of the world's greatest newspapers, has suffered a double blow, first in the death of Louis Wiley, for many years business manager, and yesterday in the passing of Adolph S. Ochs, publisher. It is a tragic coincidence that the two eminent executives between whom a long-standing friendship existed should follow one another so closely into the great unknown.

Although Mr. Ochs did not divide his newspaper interests among a chain of publications like some of his contemporaries, he was in many respects the leading publisher on the continent. Born in Cincinnati, he began his newspaper career as a carrier newsboy and printer's apprentice, eventually becoming a compositor. Fifty-seven years ago he acquired control of The Chattanooga Times which he owned until his death.

In 1896 he bought The New York Times, then a struggling publication of modest proportions, which under his direction became one of the most successful newspapers in the world. He chose as his slogan, "All the News That's Fit to Print," and translated it into the spirit and letter of his great journal. A similar purpose dominated the advertising columns of The Times from which were excluded all advertisements in which there was misrepresentation.

So complete was the news service that it became an axiom within the orbit of the publication that nobody who wanted the fullest information on what was transpiring anywhere in the world could afford to be without it. An example of the extent to which The Times would go in informing the public was furnished at the outbreak of the great war when it published a comprehensive statement, covering many pages, of the entire situation, with a dispassionate review of all the issues, on the strength of which it gave its verdict against Germany.

Mr. Ochs disliked sensationalism of the Hearst variety, and although The Times favored the Democrat party in principle, its preference always was charged with temperate independence. Mr. Ochs was noted for the consideration he extended to the several thousand members of his staff, from the highest of his able-trained executives to the most humble office boy. Having risen from the job of carrier through the printing trade, and editorial and business services, he was familiar with every aspect of newspaper publication. His death is a great loss to the newspaper world, and will be widely deplored particularly by the smaller publishers in whose problems he never failed to take a genuine personal interest. He takes his place with Pulitzer, Dana and Greeley in the pantheon of New York's newspapermen, and in his great metropolitan daily he leaves a lofty monument to his genius.

JOSEPH HUNTER

AT THE AGE OF NINETY-FOUR, AND until comparatively recently as hale and hearty as others many years his junior, Joseph Hunter was called to his last rest early yesterday morning. For the Psalmist's allotted span of three score years and ten he had been a resident of British Columbia, and for all of them but five he had lived in Victoria.

Mr. Hunter was an Aberdonian, got his training as a civil engineer and surveyor in the Old Land, and like most of those of his race who came to Canada in the early days he brought with him to the west those sterling qualities, resourcefulness, and determination to succeed which one instinctively associates with the men and women from north of the Tweed who have played so conspicuous a part in the building up of the Dominion—and particularly its most western province.

It was the mining activity in British Columbia which induced Mr. Hunter as a young man to try his fortunes in the New World. His lure was too much for him to resist. In the evening of his days we may assume that he felt no regrets for the choice he made, for it fell to his lot to play many parts in the drama of life.

His early training equipped him for practical work and his association with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and for many years with the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway and allied coal mining, timber and land interests, in an engineering and executive capacity earned for him the reputation of being able to succeed in anything he undertook.

Mr. Hunter, however, was more than an expert in the various industrial fields in which he became such a striking figure. He was a member of the first Legislature which convened in this city after British Columbia had entered Confederation, and it is only necessary for the student of history to reflect upon what has taken place in this province and throughout the Dominion in that time to realize what a continually changing political panorama Mr. Hunter must have been able to contemplate. Indeed, the life-story of Joseph Hunter embraces the story of post-Confederation British Columbia under many heads.

Mr. Hunter became a Freemason in Barkerville as far back as 1869 and at the time of his death in Victoria; there can be very few his senior in the whole province. While advancing years prevented regular attention to his Masonic duties, he was always generous in his gifts rendered with the charities maintained or assisted by the order.

The Times extends its sympathy to Mrs. Hunter and to her two sons in their bereavement.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

GOOD ADVICE
The Winnipeg Tribune

Dr. Wynne, New York's health commissioner, says the golden rule of health is "Keep Your Mouth Shut." But isn't that the golden rule of human intercourse generally?

RELIEF DEBT
The Winnipeg Free Press

Winnipeg's debt for unemployment relief is now almost $6,000,000. The city has also spent $1,167,000 on relief works. The annual debt charge is now nearly $500,000, and they are increasing as the city continues to borrow money for relief. The debt charges on relief expenditure will have to be paid for years, and in addition, the city will have to raise a considerable amount for current relief through the taxes.

DEMOCRACY AT ITS WORST
The San Francisco Argonaut

The rough and tumble, catch-as-catch-can with no holds barred that General Johnson started in his attack upon Huey Long and Father Coughlin is no ordinary clash. The fracas is a scathing commentary on the status of democracy in this country. It combines the worst elements of a saloon brawl and a free-for-all among lunatics. It is democracy run amok. It is so many things of evil that what its final significance will be can only be guessed at.

WOMEN IN PULPITS
The Border Cities Star

Opinions differ throughout Canada as to whether women should occupy church pulpits. Not long ago Manitoba ministers voiced their approval: this week the Middlesex Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, meeting in London, voted against the ordination of women. The decision was very close though, the standing vote being 40 to 38. The narrow margin points to a growing sympathy for women preachers. Many churchmen contend that the fair sex is better fitted for the role of missionary or deaconess. Others say certain women would make excellent pulpit orators. Without taking sides, one may say there isn't any doubt but that some would preach first class sermons.

FORTUNE SEEKERS

ACROSS the flat top of Pelly Mountain two new wheel tracks were cut deep into the snow that glistened like polished white metal in the sun. We followed them, Betsy and I, galloping hard through the dead winter of early April, and up by the Twenty-nine we found the car stuck fast in a drift. Two men, a woman and a baby were in the ramshackle old flivver, bound, they said, for the "gold fields," and with no idea where the Pelly Road led—lost and likely to remain out in the weather all night.

We managed to get them turned around somehow, after an hour's hard shovelling, and sent them back to the Marble Canyon Road, where the snow had already disappeared. But when we followed that way ourselves to-wits' ending, there they were again, broken down beside the road, both back "wherever" or "anywhere" or "anywhere," and the road from the Coast up to Pelly, usually to see Louis Lebourdais, the most notable and best-known citizen of the entire Cariboo. In Louis's telegraph office beside the river all the news of the country ticks in—Creston, Kamloops, the ranches of Chilcotin, from far-off Klenna Klenna by the Coast mountains, from Ashcroft and Clinton and Barkerville. Everything that happens in the most remote hamlet, in the furthest settlement, is known to Louis almost within the hour.

OPEN AGAIN

YES, THE great north road is open again and hope travels hard upon it in these first days of the Cariboo spring, as disappointment will often travel wearily back again next fall. The road is open and they trek into the Cariboo with damming visions of gold as they did in the roaring sixties. After its long winter's silence, the old road hears the cheering sound of traffic once more and the Cariboo is coming out of its den like a bear.

The spring march pauses for the night at Clinton, as it has done along the first days of the Cariboo. Around the huge drum stove of the old Clinton Hotel—built by an old blacksmith at Douglas Fording in the sixties and brought to the hotel by pack train—on these first evenings of the chill spring you can hear all the news of the Cariboo from the St. Lawrence Hill, they say, and the usual sea of mud-down by Soda Creek. The canyon is good and the roads to Liliput and Ashcroft, but you're liable to get stuck in drifts up past the Cottonwood.

It's good up to Williams Lake, the black-bearded truck driver says. It's terrible past there, says the traveler who has broken through to Prince. There's heavy snow still on the St. Lawrence Hill, they say, and the usual sea of mud-down by Soda Creek. The canyon is good and the roads to Liliput and Ashcroft, but you're liable to get stuck in drifts up past the Cottonwood.

Oscar Adamson, who has made the ancient Clinton Hotel one of the best in British Columbia and hardly recognizable as the log stopping house of 1861, has all the news of the road, up and down, all the news from the mines, the latest on best prices at Calgary. He tells of many strange travelers who are going up the road this spring, of youngsters who have bought a $25 flivver and expect to find gold at the grass roots, of a fellow who hitch-hiked into Clinton the other night on a truck, without a cent, with only a loaf of bread and a hunk of cheese, quite happy because he knew a stream where there must be gold. There must be gold in his stream, said he, because there was gold in streams on each side of him.

A REAL LORD

AFTER THOSE weary legions of a job here we came to the Hundred-mile House for lunch, probably the only inn on this continent owned and managed by an English earl. A couple of Americans stopped at Clinton last fall and put on evening clothes because they planned to dine with young Lord Martin Corle. They found him, as usual, working about his vast ranch in overalls and a sweater. The portraits of many ancient Cecils in Elizabethan trunk home and Stuart ruffies look down from the walls of the Hundred mile House with surprise at the sight of a man in a sweater. They have become a part of this new country, and on many a traveler who is a little awed by the presence of a real live earl—even an earl in overalls.

On we go along the rolling shores of Lee La Hache, where fifteen deer stand fifty yards from the road and watch us, unafraid. Past the Hundred and Fifty-three, past Soda Creek and the Australian, out again to the edge of the river where the ice is tumbling along in green chunks, on and on through endless runs, where the frozen mud grinds against the axle and a car hurtles along like a drunken man, until we come at last to the blood-red gravel hill down to Quesnel.

LOUIS

EVERYONE stops at Quesnel, which is the end of the best country, and the beginning of the gold fields, where there are no more ten-gallon hats and bat-wing caps, but miners in high boots, engineers from the Coast in leather jackets, trucks loaded high with supplies for old Barkerville, sixty miles to the east. Everybody stops at Quesnel, usually to see Louis Lebourdais, the most notable and best-known citizen of the entire Cariboo. In Louis's telegraph office beside the river all the news of the country ticks in—Creston, Kamloops, the ranches of Chilcotin, from far-off Klenna Klenna by the Coast mountains, from Ashcroft and Clinton and Barkerville. Everything that happens in the most remote hamlet, in the furthest settlement, is known to Louis almost within the hour.

But best of all are Louis's tales of the old Cariboo, of stage coach days of air-borne teaming days, of days when a thousand-dollar pot was the usual thing in the roadside poker game of an evening. Get Louis to tell you of the two teamsters who went to a dance in Barkerville, having borrowed a suit of clothes each from Louis—passed at Kelly's Hotel for a hand of poker and remained at the card table for two days without a break. Get him to tell you of that mighty legendary figure, Catalina, of Henry Jones and Cariboo Cameron, the old fellow who carved himself an elaborate grave-post, only to have it removed by his grasping relatives after his death, so that he sleeps now in Barkerville's cemetery without a sign to mark his place.

MUD AND ICE

WE TEAR ourselves away from Louis at last and plunge into the high north road. It is well greased and sound out to the yawning gash of Cottonwood Canyon, but beyond that there is glare ice on the shady hillside and clinging, sucking mud in the sunshine. We hear that Fred Burden (formerly Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, but now plain Fred Burden beloved throughout this country) got stuck three times along here the other day, had to get three different teams to pull him out, and made an all-time record of fourteen hours between the Hundred and Fifty and Quesnel, normally three or four hours' driving.

Never mind. The frost will soon be out of the road. They will grade the rutts off somehow. By the time you travel into the north the road will be as good as a gravel road can be, by all means go up there and see British Columbia.

of Australia, South Africa or the Irish Free State. Why should he be wished on to us?

The British traditional point of view is the balance of power in Europe, and has been since the time of Henry VIII. It has caused more suffering, hatred and war than any policy ever evolved before or since, and yet, according to Mr. Tucker, it is the will of God and should be approached on bended knees by all Canadians. Thank goodness the Canadian people now treat his remarks as bunk and imperialistic propaganda, and are beginning to think for themselves at last. A. D. MARTIN, 1512 Vining Street, Victoria, April 8.

against vivisection is complete without the name of the great Queen, Victoria.

It is strange that Dean Quainton should have overlooked this part of Lord Shaftesbury's noble words. Many ministers of the Gospel forget their teaching when they ignore the sacred duty of kindness to animals. Healing the sick by prayer is again preached by the Church of England and is discreetly blessed by the Bench of Bishops, who would not for the world offend the medical profession. Can prayer for the success of cruel experiments on living animals also rise to Heaven? E. L. DEVITT.

NOTOR CAR ACCIDENT

To the Editor:—In Monday's evening paper there was a wireless of an accident which occurred on Sunday evening, when two people were taken to the hospital. It also stated that a "drive yourself" car was in the accident. I would like you to put in the paper that it was not a "Drive Yourself" car. There is more than one "drive yourself" business in the city, and my place being the oldest, people are pleased and coming to the office asking what car it was. E. HILL, Proprietor Hill's Drive Yourself Cars, 721 View Street, Victoria, April 8.

PROTECTION OF CHILDREN

To the Editor:—Can something not be done for Victoria kiddies of tender years whose parents for some unknown reason allow their offspring to roam our streets nightly after dark? Their health and morals should be our first consideration. I trust the parents would welcome my suggestions. Unfortunately we have in our midst some depraved people. Protection would be welcomed which in after years would mean much. Delinquency is on the increase to a marked degree. Immediate necessity for such a law was most forcibly impressed upon me of late, having noticed night after night, young children congregated on the street at a very early hour. DUNCAN FAIR PLANS MADE

Objection Registered By Cowichan Society Over Conflict of Dates

The monthly meeting of the directors of the Cowichan Agricultural Society was held in the agricultural office, April 1, at 8 p.m. D. McLaughlin, president, was in the chair.

C. F. Daykin, a new director, was welcomed to the meeting.

A resolution presented urging more equitable taxes for school purposes was referred to a special committee for consideration and redrafting to be presented to the next meeting of district farmers' institutions.

It was also resolved that in future all resolutions for consideration at District A Institute meetings should be in the hands of the various institutes at least thirty days preceding the meeting.

A letter was presented from W. J. Bonavia, secretary of the B.C. Pains Association, advising that it was the intention of the Victoria Fair Committee to change their allocated fair date to one that would conflict with the dates, given to Cowichan. Letters of protest against the suggested change will be sent to Mr. Bonavia, the Victoria City Council, the Fair Association, and to the Tourist Development Association.

Matters in connection with the fair fair were dealt with. It was decided to hold an eight-man tag of war for which substantial prizes will be given.

A Peterson, Vancouver Island member on the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, outlined what progress had thus far been made to bring the sale of vegetables under control.

Representation has been made to the Dominion Marketing Board at Ottawa to grant permission for the interior board to control potatoes so the producers could at least get some return on the balance of the 1934 crop.

Dr. Moore of the University of B.C. will give a talk on matters of interest to farmers on Monday, April 8.

JUDGE SUSPENDS PETTICREW TERM

Owen Petticrew, found guilty with his brother, Hugh, of the Hobson Grocery, Esquimalt, robbery in January, as indicated when the court adjourned at noon, was later in the day released by Judge Lampman on suspended sentence.

Hugh was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary because of his former crime and jail record in Calgary and Seattle.

During the adjournment, Prosecutor Henry C. Hall, B.C. conferred with the Attorney-General's department about the suggestion made by D. S. Tait, defence counsel, that Owen should be granted suspended sentence.

When the court resumed, the prosecutor said that if the judge were willing to grant suspended sentence, the Attorney-General was ready to acquiesce.

Judge Lampman said he did not like sentencing a young man for his first offence. He declared Owen had a good reputation, but had been led away, evidently, by bad companions.

The judge ordered suspended sentence, with Owen giving his undertaking to behave himself in the future and to report to the police here on the first of each month for nine months.

The police will take Hugh Petticrew to Oakalla jail for two months before he enters on his term at the penitentiary. His three years' term starts on January 18, 1935, as the penitentiary term will only run two and one-half years from which there may be time off for good behavior.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

Shawnigan Lake, April 2.—The monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Women's Institute was held last week in the B.L.A.A. Hall, Mrs. A. J. Dyon presiding. A report on a suitable cemetery site was received from the District Board of Trade, acting in conjunction with the Institute. Action in this matter may soon be expected. Mrs. M. E. Kinloch reported on the Health Centre work, and stated the drive for funds had been successful. The question of clearing up the bathing beach, littered with debris by the recent flood waters, will be dealt with by a committee. Mrs. Dyon brought up the question of the institute helping to procure text books for high school pupils. The matter will be looked into.

A discussion took place relative to the problem of what to do with the boys and girls leaving school. The apprenticeship system was suggested, and information given by a member of how it works in England.

Mrs. M. E. Kinloch and Mrs. M. D. Dyon gave readings, and Mrs. P. J. Dyon gave an informative address on legislation passed at the recent session of Parliament.

Ten were served, Mrs. A. Macdonald and Mrs. R. P. Weber being hostesses. An enjoyable old-time dance and card party was staged in the B.L.A.A. Hall Friday evening by the Shawnigan Women's Institute. The local "Home Towners" orchestra played all the old-time favorites. Several tables of cards were in play. The dining-room was decorated with the institute colors and spring flowers, and supper was served.

STATES MANY NOW 'ROTTING'

Alderman P. R. Brown Calls Attention to Case of Single Unemployed

A single person of single unemployed, "rotting" through lack of work was shown by Alderman P. R. Brown, former chairman of the finance committee, when he came up for discussion at the city council meeting yesterday evening.

He said other persons turned their attention to the relief camp strike, noting the government had shown a lack of action which might lead to rioting in Victoria. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar urged drastic action by the city on the relief situation, since, he claimed, the provincial government had shown little concern over the position in which it placed the city.

Mayor David Leeming noted the inevitable difficulties which would arise from men leaving the relief camp. They came to town with pocket money which soon dwindled away and left them at the mercy of their friends or the public. If they begged they were liable to arrest and, without money, to jail sentences. The end of their incarceration was merely turned over to the city and helped to increase the difficulties, the mayor stated.

The financial picture, however, was the least serious phase of the depressing outlook for single unemployed brought out in discussion yesterday evening.

Mayor Leeming opened up the question with a report on relief showing the shortage in families requiring aid during January and February to be virtually negligible.

The government participating in relief expenditures totaling $65,000, the mayor stated. In addition to that, the city had to meet charges of $95,150 alone, plus an addition of $5,700 in the form of reduced government contribution, another $300 for garbage cans and the sum of $4,000 for drugs furnished to the indigent. That made a total of over $160,000 which the city had to meet without government aid.

The mayor then called for a motion to place the figures before the Minister of Labor asking for a "better break" for the city.

Alderman Brown put the motion and recommended the government be asked to give more consideration to single men forced on to the street.

PEOPLE ROTTING
"Many of our people are rotting," he declared, adding if the government had gone through with its work and wages promises the city would not have so many people going into the streets.

He cited the case of a man of forty-two years with a wife and two children. Conditions had to be worked upon his mind that he had begun to believe his wife and children should be put out of the way. The man had been removed to the mental home. Some action was needed to prevent men from being driven to a life of crime, Alderman Brown declared.

He remarked that most of the strikers who had left relief camps on the southern end of Vancouver Island were not city or island residents, but came from the mainland. How clear they had given the strikers who reached town two meals to prevent them from disturbing the peace on Sunday was reported by the mayor.

It was noted the government had decided to take "strong action" on the strike. That, Alderman Brown said, might result in trouble for Victoria.

NO CONSIDERATION
Alderman Dewar reminded the council of his stand on relief, and noted it had been shown upon by the civic body on the grounds it might cause rioting.

"I notice the provincial government has no intention in placing in a position which might cause rioting," he continued, adding if the government did nothing to relieve the situation he thought the city should take drastic action.

Alderman Brown said the government was letting the men come into the city and took the chance of rioting, he said.

The provincial government officials had told the mayor there was no further aid coming from them, and had told the city not to help the men, Alderman Brown said.

His statement was made in answer to a question by Alderman Archie Willis as to what the government intended to do.

"These men come in from the camps with pocket money they have saved. It goes quickly and they have to rely on their friends or beg. If they are welcomed they go to jail at the city's expense," the mayor stated.

Alderman Willis commented the government just let them drift.

The mayor agreed with the statement, adding it was evidence of moral weakness.

Alderman Dewar remarked the majority of them came to town to find work. "They cannot secure employment in the relief camps," he said.

PAY TRIBUTE TO JOSEPH HUNTER
Victoria's City Council yesterday evening paid a silent tribute to the memory of one of the city's outstanding figures, the late Joseph Hunter, who passed away yesterday morning.

Alderman James Adam, introducing a motion of sympathy to the family, of which Alderman J. D. Hunter is a son, spoke of the late Mr. Hunter's work in various big construction projects before calling upon the mayor and aldermen to rise in honor of his memory.

Letters of sympathy will be sent to the family.

BANK WILL KEEP BONDS

Ald. McGavin Loses Motion to Have Securities Returned to Officials

Alderman Andrew McGavin's announced motion seeking the return to the custody of bonded civic officials city securities valued at over $4,700,000 from the Bank of Montreal, which charges a fee of $1,200 annually for its safe keeping and coupon clipping, was defeated by the City Council yesterday evening.

The alderman lost his motion on a split vote, Alderman James Adam, Walter Leeming and T. W. Hawkins supporting him, and Alderman Archie Willis, R. A. C. Dewar, P. R. Brown, Alex Peden, John Worthington and the mayor voting against the motion.

On the issue of his drive against the payment to the bank of the safe-keeping fee, Alderman McGavin charged the City Council finance committee with being "top-heavy." With a membership of six, it could put anything through the council it wished, he said. He did not, however, charge the committee directly with railroading any particular item.

After a lengthy survey of the custom adopted by the city prior to the time it handed its securities to the bank for keeping last year, and after a detailed description of methods used in other cities, Alderman McGavin declared the $1,200 fee was "a charge against the bank."

He referred to the University of Manitoba trust fund and Anglican church scandal, calling it a bedtime story.

TOP HEAVY
Turning to the finance committee, he said its majority of council members virtually excluded a minority five and that the finance committee could "put the shrike to the council whenever it felt like it."

He then appealed to the council to pass his motion for the return of the securities to the city, giving the bank the custody of the securities.

"If you have $1,200 to throw to the birds, give it to the people who are in need," he said, before quoting relief to certain classes.

Alderman P. R. Brown explained the action taken with the funds and gave detail of the holdings. Neither he nor any other member of the finance committee had meant their action as a reflection on the city officials formerly entrusted with the care of the securities, he said.

Rating of bonds on those who would handle the securities if they were taken from the bank, plus the insurance on them, would amount to about $600 or more, Alderman Brown stated, adding that left little profit for the bank.

NOT CONVINCED
Alderman McGavin still maintained "That's one of the rottenest things that has gone through since the bank was created by the council."

Alderman Alex Peden noted the owner of a building would protect it by insurance. Similarly he felt securities should be protected. On that ground he supported the safe-keeping of the documents by the bank.

He challenged Alderman McGavin to debate the question on a public platform. The challenge was accepted.

The debate continued, with the mayor supporting the city now in force as did Alderman Dewar. Alderman Adam supported Alderman McGavin, and Alderman Leeming moved an amendment to table the matter.

It was finally put to the vote and defeated.

CIVIC WAGE SURVEY SOON

Alderman P. R. Brown Calls For Statement on Salaries of Employees

Reconsideration of the salaries of civic employees, particularly those receiving low wages, was foreshadowed at yesterday evening's City Council meeting with the passage of a motion by Alderman P. R. Brown, former chairman of the finance committee, calling for information on costs of partially restoring reduction of the motion.

His resolution follows: "That the city controller be instructed to advise the committee on salaries of the city of the cost of the restoration to the civic employees as from May 1, 1935, of the salary and wage reductions made in 1933 and 1934, to the extent of 5 per cent of the present salaries and wages of all civic employees under the control of the City Council, Board of Police Commissioners and Victoria Public Library Board."

REPORTS ASKED
And further, that the city controller and heads of departments be directed to furnish the committee on salaries with full details as to the names, duties, period and record of employment, status (married or single), and salary record of each employee, and submit recommendation as to what salary or wage increase (if any) in their opinion should be made in each case."

Alderman Brown explained he was seeking information before the estimates came up.

"I want to know something about these young men who are married and raising families as well as paying taxes, on as low as $60 a month," he said.

During the meeting the council raised the salary of the building inspector to $171 a month, thereby establishing his monthly salary at $100 less the cost of 10 per cent, or $5 per cent, put into force during the last two years.

Another salary communication, received from the local fire department, was referred to the fire committee.

G.C.F. Write New Words to 'O Canada'

"No More to Mammam Will We Bend the Knee" Is Theme of Parody on National Anthem

A new version of Canada's national anthem, composed through the efforts of the G.C.F. by J. S. Taylor, Manalmo Federal candidate, yesterday evening. The meeting was opened with the anthem to the following words:

"O Canada, our home, our native land, In thy defence united now we stand;

Thy sons and daughters far and near, Are suffering and distressed;

For usury has taken all, And they are dispossessed.

We will arise! we will be free! No more to mammam will we bend the knee.

O Canada! we stand on guard for thee."

A newly organized G.C.F. choir led the singing and also rendered political parodies on "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet" and "Down in the Courtyard."

Presentation To Matt Hutchison

As a mark of appreciation for the long and untiring service he had given the city, Matthew Hutchison, recently retired city electrical engineer, was presented with a sufficient military brushes and a box of cigars by the City Council yesterday evening.

Mayor David Leeming, making the presentation, spoke of Mr. Hutchison's forty years' service with Victoria during which he had earned the respect of the council and other bodies with which he had come into contact.

Mr. Hutchison replied fittingly, thanking the council for the gift and good wishes and speaking of the changes that had come to pass during his time.

It had been his constant effort to make sure he was right and then to go ahead, he said, adding he had the satisfaction of knowing he was leaving the city with no bad legacy. The facilities the city now had would be of particular value in the future, he declared.

NEW BUILDING SCHEME NEED

Winding morvly through a mass of digressions which helped to prolong the meeting the City Council yesterday jumped from demolitions to some building plans as they considered the physical rise and fall of construction in Victoria.

After the council had approved the demolition of fourteen condemned premises, Alderman Walter Leeming rose to draw the council's attention to the number of vacant lots it was putting on the city's hands by tearing down old structures. He believed some scheme should be adopted whereby the city could erect cheap houses on old excavations and sell them at a low rate.

Alderman Andrew McGavin rose to deplore the stripping activities practiced in some vacant houses, where pillagers were not even restrained from stealing radiators.

Mayor David Leeming swung into his home building and financing scheme, telling of the approval it had received from a certain provincial official as well as Thomas Bradshaw.

REAL ESTATE MEN BLAMED
Alderman Leeming took the floor again to blame certain real estate interests for the lack of building in the city. Some firms, he declared, re-built for speculative purposes, to build in the outside municipalities where taxes were lower.

The average agent did not try to force the client out of the city, Alderman P. R. Brown maintained.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar pointed to the false economy of saving on taxes and losing on transportation by building outside the city.

Then the council returned to the demolition question and tabled a recommendation that the old Bavery property on the George Road be torn down. Alderman Adam asked that the house at 1050 View Street be inspected for demolition.

WILL MEET ON BUREAU GRANT

The cases for and against the restoration of the city's annual grant to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau will be discussed before the City Council sitting at the public

FROM A STAFF OF SEVEN TO SIX THOUSAND STRONG

From less than a corporal's guard to the equivalent of six regiments—this graphically illustrates the growth of the Bank of Montreal's staff in 117 years.

On the 23rd of August, 1817, the first four employees of the Bank of Montreal were appointed. They were the cashier, an accountant, a paying teller and a second teller. Shortly afterward a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper and a porter were added.

These seven constituted the original staff when the modest establishment on St. Paul Street in Montreal opened its doors on Monday, November 3rd—an establishment which was destined to play a conspicuous and beneficial part in the development of Canada's resources.

Throughout the many decades that have followed, the Bank of Montreal has made increasing effort to provide a banking service always adequate to meet the requirements of Canada's development.

The original staff of seven has grown to 6,300, loyally serving the public through 500 branches extending from sea to sea—and overseas.

Getting Ready For "Y" Show

Annual Circus Will Be Bigger and Better This Year, Archie McKinnon Promises

"It's going to be an even bigger and better show than last year," said Archie McKinnon, physical director of the Y.M.C.A. this morning, referring to the "Y" annual circus, to be held in the second week of next month. Mr. McKinnon, who is in charge of the circus, was this morning busy preparing plans for the new show.

Last year the "Y" circus, which formerly had been a relatively small affair held in the association's gymnasium, blossomed out into a full-sized ring show, and drew an audience of several thousands to the Willow Grove show building.

Features of this year's show were set by the various physical departments of the Y.M.C.A. in the Victoria Riding Academy, the fire department, the Royal Canadian Navy and a number of other organizations.

STUDIES CLOWNING

Mr. McKinnon this morning announced that his circus would be more numerous and funnier than last year. His desk was littered with a host of booklets on the subject of clowning for clowns, and he was busy engaged in explaining the relative advantages of white patches and red noses.

A meeting of "Y" officers who will be concerned with the staging of the show will be held in the "Y" building at 7:15 o'clock Thursday evening, with E. O. Rowbottom in the chair, to discuss the preliminary stages in their arrangements.

Allan Tregellas, 2521 Blanshard Street, a motorcyclist, suffered injuries to his hands and feet in an accident at the corner of Richmond Avenue and Fort Street, yesterday, according to a city police report. ## FLEE TO SAIL TOURIST MOVE AFTER DELAY SUPPORT ASKED

Halibut Boats Will Go Out Despite Failure to Settle Disagreements

Pre-season troubles among northwest halibut fishermen appeared to have been stemmed down to-day and, according to advice received by Hon. George S. Pearson, K.C., Commissioner of Fisheries, the Canadian and United States fleets are expected to be on the fishing grounds shortly.

When word was received to-day that part of the Seattle fleet had sailed and the remainder would leave by Wednesday, it was anticipated that the fishing season would be opened by an argument between fishermen and boat owners, would also sail.

Because of a dispute over the disposal of halibut from halibut livers, fishermen at Prince Rupert had refused to go out, but seventeen boats manned by sailors and owners are already fishing in the area.

It was intended to stage the campaign for funds until May 10. It would be staged in a similar manner to the Y.M.C.A. drive in Canada, and the Seattle fleet would be in charge of Frank Paulding, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here.

There were to be sixty-four canvassers in the drive, with major and captain as the leaders. He appealed for volunteer canvassers from the Kwanan membership.

VICTORIA LOOKS "PRETTY GOOD"

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pendray Back After Cruise of Pacific

"We've had a wonderful trip, but we're glad to be back in Victoria just the same," said Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pendray as they came down the gangplank of the liner St. Empress of Japan to-day, completing a six months' visit to the Orient and Australia.

"Victoria looked pretty good as we approached," said Mr. Pendray. Mr. and Mrs. Pendray left Victoria last October after a cruise to Japan, later visiting China, the Philippines, India, Singapore, Siam and Australia. They spent several months in Australia and New Zealand before travelling to Honolulu by the St. Empress. After a few days in Hawaii they boarded the Empress of Japan for Victoria.

Mr. Pendray, a former Victoria boy, who has been living in Shanghai for the last three years, arrived home by the Empress of Japan by special arrangement. He is now in Victoria.

A. Pietry, also a former Victoria boy, who is now connected with the Jardine, Matheson Company in Shanghai, will also spend the summer in Victoria.

Mrs. J. A. Langley wife of the commercial attaché at the Canadian Legation in Tokyo arrived by the Empress with her two children en route to eastern Canada to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Strath of Detroit were aboard the liner, returning from a vacation trip to Honolulu. A Victorian aboard was Mrs. Robert Scott, who spent the last few months in the Hawaiian Islands.

Capt. J. R. E. Taylor and Capt. D. R. McKinnon, officers in the Indian army, with headquarters at Calcutta, will spend the summer here and in Vancouver.

Miss D. E. Anderson Dies in Hospital

At St. Joseph's Hospital this morning, the death occurred of Doris Edna Anderson, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asel G. Anderson, 100 Burrard Avenue. Miss Anderson was born in Victoria and is survived by her parents and one brother. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

EMPRESS MET BAD WEATHER

Rough weather between Diamond Head and Cape Flattery delayed the arrival of the Canadian Pacific Empress of Japan at Victoria until 12:45 o'clock this afternoon. She proceeded to Vancouver two hours later.

The liner plied most of the way north, heavy clouds down her side. Other than this, Capt. L. D. Douglas, master, reported a good voyage from Yokohama.

Many of the travelers were en route to England and will cross Canada to take passage for home after serving several years at various positions in the Orient.

Mr. Walter Preston, a director of the Midland Bank of London, was aboard with Lady Preston, general manager of the bank, and J. T. Bagram, consul-general at Hongkong, for whom they were both en route to their way to Europe.

PIONEER BURIED

The funeral of Sarah Ann Creed, pioneer resident of this city, who passed away on Friday, took place yesterday afternoon. Rev. F. C. Bagshaw, assisted by Rev. James Wood, conducted the service, during which the hymns, "I Need Thee Every Hour" and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus," were sung. Interment was in the liner plot at Rose Bay Cemetery. The following grandsons acted as pallbearers: W. F. Emery, E. H. Emery, A. G. Creed, R. Wagg, A. G. Wagg and A. W. Creed.

Former Victoria Teacher Passes

Funeral services were held to-day in Vancouver for William Grant, former member of the Victoria High School, who passed away in Vancouver yesterday, aged fifty years. Rev. F. W. McKinnon of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, officiated at the service.

Prior to going to Vancouver eighteen years ago, Mr. Grant was a teacher for one year in the High School here. He was author of a play, "The Birth of Nations," and edited a series of articles entitled "Facing the Facts," dealing with the causes of the economic depression.

Funeral services for Henry Albert (Harry) Warner, well-known barber of this city, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on Sunday, will be held to-day at 2:30 o'clock at Carter's Funeral Home. Rev. P. L. Stephenson will officiate, and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The presentation of Mohan Singh, charged with obtaining $500 from a group of Indians, who both were at Great Central Lake, opened in the City Police Court this morning. R. C. Lowe prosecuted and J. B. Cleburne appeared for the defense. The case was adjourned to secure an interpreter.

TRADITION HAS TOURIST VALUE

Romantic History of Vancouver Island Told Kwananians By B. A. McKelvie

"You cannot build citizenship, you cannot build public spirit and you cannot develop community feeling without history; history must be the background of citizenship," Bruce A. McKelvie, managing-editor of the Kwanan Club at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day, Mr. McKelvie spoke on the value of romance and tradition.

As an introduction to his talk Mr. McKelvie referred to the interest which people found in the collection of antiquities, which was a realization of the commercial value of history.

There were other phases of the commercial value of history, however, he continued. "People love the association of old stories," he said.

There was still another value to history. He referred to the fact that the tourist value was $600,000,000 a year. "And what has California got?" he asked. "A burning sunshine and romance," he added.

U.S. TO VISIT

There was a ready reception in world-famous San Francisco, California, to-day, when the Hawaiian Islands, with the sunshine, that made the Hawaiian Islands.

"What have we on this island of ours to offer—some say we are too new—we have no history," he said.

The first written records of the North American continent were of this coast. Mr. McKelvie pointed out that the records dated back to the days when the Romans were leaving Britain, or 1,000 years before Columbus. "And then they tell us we have no history," he said.

NEW CIVILIZATION

"We have a civilization that is being uncovered that may date back to the days of the Pyramids," he said, referring to the discovery of the Mitchell and Heppner stones at Nanaimo, which he said was opening up a new field for archaeologists.

Mr. McKelvie then went into the value of preserving the stones of the Indians on this coast.

Telling the romance of to-day, the speaker said he was taking part in an expedition next week to find the home of the mythical thunderbird, from which the Indians believed it had been chased.

COLORED STORY

What Mr. McKelvie considered to be the finest historical story of North America was the tale of one Pedro Alberca's experiences with the West Coast Indians in the establishing of the Spanish settlement at the point which now bears his name.

Another story, which had never been published, was that of Sir James Douglas, assistant to the Governor of British Columbia, who was in charge of the territory of the province of British Columbia, who was in charge of the territory of the province of British Columbia, who was in charge of the territory of the province of British Columbia.

Mr. McKelvie moved the club's thanks to Mr. McKelvie.

A president and an executive of nine will be elected. While the election is proceeding a musical entertainment will be provided by Slim Hunter's Band.

This will be followed by an address by Denis Murphy, the guest young Liberal speaker from Vancouver.

The constitution reads in part as follows: "To provide facilities to study and disseminate independently of any party or set of any government the principles of Liberalism and the history of Liberalism in Canada, and further to debate and consider a solution for all questions and problems of a public or national character in the light of these principles, so as to secure and maintain good government by the support and understanding of the principles of Liberalism."

The objects of the club are not only of a political nature, but will include social and athletic activities.

Alan Chambers, federal candidate for Nanaimo, himself a young Liberal, will preside.

ASK SUGGESTION FOR ROAD NAME

Representatives of the Gonias Community Association will have an opportunity to suggest a new name for Foul Bay Road in the near future when they meet members of the park committee at a conference the date for which has not yet been arranged. Yesterday evening the City Council heard a request in writing from the association asking for reconsideration of the request for a change in the road name. A letter was also received from F. H. Rose protesting any change. The council at a previous meeting decided not to change the name.

Alderman Archie Wills took the floor to ask that the association be given a chance to suggest a new name in view of the fact the group had done valuable work in the community. The council then adjourned.

Major David Leeming will attend the executive meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Vancouver on Saturday to discuss the municipal stand on proposed new superannuation legislation.

The meeting has been called to draw up a municipal program which may be used to support provincial legislation on superannuation tabled at the last session of the Legislature.

POSTPONE MEETING

Halifax, April 9.—A second postponement of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's annual meeting was announced to-day, and the sports heads will not meet until to-morrow.

Montreal Royals Win Rugged Game

Defeat Halifax Wolverines 4 to 3 in Allan Cup Hockey Semi-final; Montreal Defeated in Great Last-period Exhibition; Les Patrick Favors Wolverines

Halifax, April 8.—Montreal Royals were within shooting distance of the Allan Cup final today, having defeated Halifax Wolverines 4 to 3 yesterday evening in the second game of the eastern Canadian amateur hockey championship series after holding them to a 2 to 2 overtime in the opening encounter.

Either a win or a draw in Wednesday night's battle will qualify Royals to meet Port Arthur Bears for the Canadian title and the cup Montreal Hawks abandoned to go into a commercial league.

The Bears, western champions, arrived in the city yesterday evening and saw the last period between Royals and Wolverines.

LES PATRICK PRESENT

One goal down and fighting desperately to close the gap, the Maritime champions then had the invaders bottled up inside the Montreal blue line in attack that moved Lester Patrick to comment for the first time since he arrived to look for big league prospects.

The Wolves soon evened up the series on Wednesday night, the goal being scored by the New York Rangers, who said after it was all over, "And then I expect to see them eliminate the Royals from Allan Cup competition in the deciding game."

Back in the form that required Toronto's hand-picked all-stars, the youthful Montreals played rings around the Maritime champions in the first period. Three smart goals from the sticks of Ralph St. Germain, Neville and Herman Murray made Halifax look sick.

Neville, one of the leading scorers in the Quebec senior league this year, sniped at the veteran "Daddy" Deber from all angles.

The Wolves came back to life in the second session and near the four-minute mark Mickey McMillan beat Neville, his right winger. But the ever aggressive Neville took the cream off that less than a minute later. Boring in on Duber and scoring just before Frankie Lavigne checked him from behind.

HUDSON SCORES PAIR

Hudson became the hero of the Wolverines when he added two more goals for Halifax, one on a pass from Lavigne before the second period was half over, and another on a face-off in the third.

The brightest spot in the rugged battle was the performance of two Montreal defencemen in holding off the whole pack of Wolverines after being crippled by penalties. Farquharson had gone to the cooler for tripping St. Germain and McMillan, following in rapid succession.

For a minute Herman Murray and Johnny Tauber engaged four Halifax forwards and one defenceman in a terrific battle, and the Montreal "Gulls" was not greatly worried.

Supplies were still two men short when Seguin went down under a pile of squirming players. A view on the head from a stick left him lying on the ice. After a brief delay he returned and handled everything the Wolves sent at him.

Teams follow:

Montreal—Seguin, Murray, Tauber, Farquharson, Neville, St. Germain.

New York, April 8.—The special train which brought President Roosevelt to New York to attend the funeral of the late Warren Dinslow Robbins arrived at the Pennsylvania Station bus little behind the scheduled time today.

While speeding to New York from Florida yesterday evening, the train struck and demolished a stolen automobile which someone had abandoned on a crossing in North Carolina.

The crash, which occurred at Wilson, N.C., did not injure anyone, but caused a fifteen-minute delay in the President's fast run northward from his fishing trip in Florida waters. Two railroad detectives traveling on the Presidential special were left behind to check the demolished car for fingerprints and make other investigations.

The car's owner, Dr. L. J. Herring, reported it had been stolen from a parking place while he was at a dinner party at his home. "We demand next-appearing workers—won't tolerate a man who tries to get by without shaving."

The Pittsburgh Pirates were tough competition in 1934. They should not press any easier to beat in 1935. Paul Waner, top left, will fight to keep the batting honors which he won last year. # Dave Trotter Is Big Question Mark

Montreal Maroons Rate Chances in Third Game of Stanley Cup Hockey Final To-night on Whether Or Not Left Winger Can Play; Was Cut in Thigh Saturday

By H. M. PETERS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal, April 8.—Condition of Dave Trotter, sturdy left winger, was the question mark in the camp as Montreal Maroons laid plans for the hockey game to-night that may bring them the thrill for which the club and its supporters have waited nine years—a Stanley Cup victory.

Closer to the cup than they have been since they won it in 1926, the club's second year in the National Hockey League, Maroons are two games up on the powerful Toronto Maple Leafs after 3 to 2 and 3 to 1 wins in Toronto. Tommy Gorman, speedy red team can end the series with a victory over the determined Toronto squad Manager Conny

Smith led grimly into town this morning.

While hockey-mad fans turned tickets for every inch of sitting and standing room, Maroons were eagerly waiting the result of Trotter's first attempt to skate since his right thigh was cut on Saturday in the second game of the series.

First reports Sunday night stated the player was not seriously injured, but yesterday it was feared the leg would be stiff. However, Gorman was confident the stiffness could be worked out in time and his best scoring line of Russell Blinco, Earl Robinson and Trotter would be intact.

There was no over-confidence in the Maroon camp. None forgot that a year ago Toronto was two games down to Detroit Red Wings when the teams left the Ontario capital to continue their National Hockey League championship series in Detroit. Toronto then fought spectacularly to tie the series two-all in games and put up a terrific battle before dropping the fifth.

Now was it forgotten that Toronto always makes a fine showing on the Montreal ice, which Smythe himself has praised as the finest in the circuit. They won all three games against Maroons here during the regular National League season.

Behind the cage and passed out to Earl Roche who was parked in front of the net, Clark had no chance on the drive.

The teams meet to-morrow night in the third game of the series with the fourth scheduled for Friday night and the fifth, if necessary, next Monday.

From Detroit, Foster, Williams, Killea, King, Anderson, Suba, Bruneau, D. Roche, E. Roche, Wiseman, Rouillon, Moffat.

Vancouver, April 8.—The "Hockey world series" between Vancouver Lions and Detroit Olympics was all tied up to-day at one game each. Yesterday evening the Olympics defeated the Lions 4 to 0 in the first game.

With less than thirty seconds to go in the middle session Killea carried the puck across the Vancouver blue and passed to Orrville Rouillon, burl Detroit defenceman. Rouillon's blazing drive from just outside the defence rattled Earl Clark.

Earl Roche snapped home two more markers in the final period. He counted the first unassisted when he caught the Lions on a power-play in Detroit territory and sped down the ice to draw Clark out of position and score easily.

Two seconds before the final whistle Eddie Wiseman slipped through the Vancouver defence, carried the disc

Postponed Soccer Games To-morrow

Two postponed Tuesday Cup soccer matches will be played to-morrow afternoon. Spectators will meet the Outer Wharf Rangers at Raymond Avenue, while at West Point Park the Navy will be at home to the Navy. Both matches are scheduled to start at 2.30 o'clock. McMillan will handle the white at Raymond Avenue and W. J. Coffey at West Point Park. The Spectator squad has a good chance to take top place when they battle the Rangers, being only two points behind the league-leading Hudson's Bay eleven, but if the Rangers draw or win from Spectator the Navy will take possession of the trophy Cup, on account of the Wednesday Football League championship.

BUILD PARK TO SEAT 200,000

Glasgow, April 8.—Immediate steps are being taken by the Scottish Football Association to obtain a stadium capable of accommodating 200,000 persons.

The move is the outcome of the international match at Hampden Park Saturday when 130,000 crowded into the Queen's Park ground to see Scotland defeat England 2 to 0, while approximately 50,000 were unable to obtain admittance.

Offers have been sought from first league clubs and it is reported officials of Glasgow Rangers and Queen's Park will formulate plans to enlarge their enclosures. It is expected the association will conclude negotiations with the club making the most suitable offer.

Hampden Park, the largest ground in Scotland, according to measurement is able to accommodate 100,000 spectators but a large number would be unable to view the game. For last Saturday's match it was decided to restrict the attendance to 100,000. Throx Park, the home of the famous Rangers is not so large as Hampden Park.

Reeve Lockley Vacates Chair to Reply to Councillor's Statements in Letters Words flew across the Esquimalt council chamber yesterday evening in one of the hottest sessions of several years and one of the longest.

During the course of the meeting Reeve Alexander Lockley vacated the chair, and spoke for the best part of an hour, refuting statements made in letters sent to the press by Councillor T. Harry Hodgson.

The meeting got off to a warm start with Councillor Hodgson objecting to the minutes of the last meeting and charging that he had been on his feet at the time the motion to adjourn was put, having further business to lay before the council.

WORLD SWIM RECORDS GO

J. Medica and Chicago Relay Squad Shatter Marks at U.S. Championships

New York, April 8.—The forty-seventh United States Amateur Athletic Union indoor swimming championships closed Saturday night in the New York Athletic Club pool with record-breaking performances turned in by Jack Medica, the Seattle speedster; Dick Degener, Florida high-diving specialist and Chicago's Lake Shore Club 300-yard medley trio.

In the greatest and fastest 500 yards ever swum in championship competition, Medica raced spectacularly to a 5.15.3 finish, clipping 0.10.3 seconds from his previous world mark.

Beating Medica for the spotlight, Degener hung up an American and competitive diving record by smashing 100 feet out of a possible 100 in the two-foot springboard.

Offers have been sought from first league clubs and it is reported officials of Glasgow Rangers and Queen's Park will formulate plans to enlarge their enclosures. It is expected the association will conclude negotiations with the club making the most suitable offer.

Alberta Basketball Champs Turn Back Winnipeg Squad 49 to 28 in First Game of Western Semi-finals; Jacks Favored to Win in Two Straight and Earn Right to Meet Blue Ribbons

Raymond, Alta., April 8.—Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta basketball champions, will meet Winnipeg Toilers to-night in the second game of a two-out-of-three series for the right to meet Victoria Blue Ribbons in the western Canada men's final.

The Jacks are heavy favorites to take the series two straight, having completely outclassed the Winnipeg team, one time Canadian champions, yesterday evening, 49 to 28, running wild in the second period and increasing their five-point lead to twenty-one.

The Toilers were badly smashed in an airplane accident in 1933 and only three, Phillips, Woolley and Dods, of the original championship team, are with them now.

The Winnipeg team has been working since then to collect another basketball machine but, up to this season, have been outplayed in their own league.

They held their own in the first half yesterday evening and went into the second with a deficit of only five points but the Jacks, under the leadership of Don Millon, centre, went on a scoring rampage in the last thirty minutes that completely swamped the Winnipeg boys.

Turner and O'Brien started for the Jacks and got through to the Toilers basket time after time to pile up eighteen and eleven points, respectively.

Teams and scores follow:

11: Jacks (f) 49; Toilers (f) 28. 12: Parbank (f) 4; O'Brien (f) 2. Total 49.

Toilers—Hanson (f) 8; Stimm (sub) 6; Wallace (f) 3; Phillips (c) 7; Driver (g) 7; Dods (g) 2; Davidson (sub) 6; Woolley (sub) 6. Total 28.

Depression Over For Maxie Baer

Heavyweight Champion Has Five Offers to Defend His Boxing Title With Some Handsome Guarantees; Can Fight Schmeling Either in United States Or Europe

New York, April 8.—If even half the offers he has received for a title defence in recent weeks are bona fide, the depression is over for Max Baer.

The heavyweight champion and his partner, Anell Hoffman, jointly are exercising their brains over a bewildering variety of propositions, all of them promising rich returns.

The list reads something like this:

1. A title fight in London, Rome or Vienna against Max Schmeling with municipal trucks among the stakes.

The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock.

PLAY IS FAST

Play started fast with Jacks using centre pivot style of play, while Toilers were using a blocking and screening style. Checking was close and both teams missed foul shots. Toilers broke away and in a scoring burst, Wallace, Phillips and Hanson rapped home baskets. Jacks called time out after four minutes' play. Turner scored first for Jacks when he slipped in a rebound, and Millon notched a single point. At the ten-minute mark the score was 6 to 3.

Phillips tossed a basket for the "Peg and O'Brien replied for Jacks, closely followed by Turner. A second later Turner flashed in again and netted for Jacks to put them one up. Wallace's foul heave tied the game up at 11 all. Turner put Raymond ahead on a foul shot. Two beautiful baskets from the hands of Dick O'Brien, flashy Jacks forward, boosted Jacks lead to five points at half-time.
